ORIENTATION PROGRAMMES FOR TEACHERS

2022-2023

The Institution has a robust framework for ensuring that both B. Ed and M. Ed Programmes are aligned with specific outcomes, which are communicated to teachers at the beginning of the academic year through orientation programme. During this programme, the expected outcomes for both B. Ed and M. Ed programmes are clearly communicated to the teaching faculty. This ensures that teachers are aware of the expected outcomes and can design their respective courses accordingly.

By orienting teachers to POs and COs, the institution ensures that teachers are aware of the programme's goals and objectives, courses are designed and delivered to align with programme outcomes, students are taught with clear learning objectives in mind and assessment methods are aligned with course and programme outcomes.

Orientation Programme for the Staff

This outcome-based approach to education ensures that student teachers acquire the necessary skills and knowledge to succeed in their fields. By clearly communicating these outcomes through orientation programmes and supporting teachers with resources and continuous feedback, the institution ensures that the educational experiences provided are both purposeful and effective. This alignment not only enhances the quality of education but also ensures that teachers are well-prepared to meet the challenges of the teaching profession.
